Session I: Calling “Evil Good, and Good Evil”
Moral confusion runs rampant in 21st-century America. The murder of innocent, unborn children is heralded as a “woman’s right.” The marriage of two men is praised as progress. Lewdness is lauded. In short, sin is celebrated, while righteousness is often ridiculed. “Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil.”

Session II: Four Questions Every Person Must Ask
There are many important questions that a person needs to ask, but none are more important than the four discussed in this lesson. God’s gracious, wise, and eternally important answers to these questions desperately need to be heard and digested in today’s pleasure-filled world for true, spiritual success.

Sessions III-IV: Are You a Person of Integrity? (Parts 1 & 2)
The events recorded in Genesis 37-39 provide a biblical background from which to draw timeless lessons about the importance of integrity. While many things in the life of Joseph are characteristic of a person of integrity, several of the choices his brother Judah made are typical of those who lack this all-important, fundamental quality—which God desires for all of His children. Indeed, Integrity Matters!

Session V: Retaining Reverence for God in Disrespectful Times
We live in a worldly, entertainment-oriented society that lauds irreverence and disrespect for authority. God calls us to be different—to offer Him our best every day in every way, especially in our worship to Him. “God is greatly to be feared... and to be held in reverence.”

Session VI: Pressing Toward the Prize . . . Leaving Sin Behind
Like the apostle Paul, our focus in this life is to be on our heavenly citizenship. Unlike enemies of the cross of Christ who “set their mind on earthly things,” we are to press toward the prize. We must passionately “seek those things which are above” as we eagerly wait the Lord’s return.

Session VII: Winnings Souls with Genuine Christian Living
While nothing is more detrimental to the cause of Christ than the phony “faith” of hypocrites, authentic Christians bring glory to God and win souls for Him through genuine Christian living.

Session VIII: The Supremacy of God’s Support
From a purely earthly perspective, the Christian’s task appears daunting. Yet, we must never forget that “those who are with us are more than those who are with them.” Indeed, “If God be for us, who can be against us?... In all things we are more than conquerors through Him who love us.”
